- These are the papers, sir.

The inspector looked at the assistant Sam with a look that made him say:

- Did I say something wrong?!

The inspector exhaled while wiping the sweat from his forehead and said:

- No.. but I'm not feeling well.

- You seem really sick.

- I think I'm on vacation today.

The inspector stood and went out of the police station dragging his legs, but suddenly he hurried to the middle of the street to make a little girl bump into him, she was running like an arrow, and he held her hand, like an arrow, he held her hand when the man with the sound of the steps that was filling the quiet street arrived..

The man stood in front of the inspector.

Thank you for catching this little thief.. I ran after her half the city!

- As for me, I thank Allah who made me rescue her from you before you made her run the other half of the city!

The man replied in shock:

- What did you say, man? .. this girl stole a precious thing from me and she must return it to me immediately!

In a moment, the inspector's military identification was visible in the man's eyes, their glint faded for a moment before he shouted:

- Indeed, the owner of the right does not disappoint!.. Destiny has subjugated a powerful police inspector for me to return my right to me, even if the thief was as young and weak as this girl!

The inspector smiled with a red, feverish face and said:

- Indeed, as you said: The owner of the right does not disappoint!.. Allah has subdued a police inspector to bring back the right to a young girl, even if the usurper was cunning and strong!

The inspector burst out laughing while the man tried to object in vain, because the inspector took the girl, got into the police station and close the door behind him..

He got into his office when the assistant stood shivering and got away from the inspector's chair, shy redness was on his face, he said:

- Thanks Allah, you are well, sir!

Inspector Layth smiled, ignoring the assistant, and sat on a side chair.

- Calm down, my daughter, and tell me where is your father, so that I can take you back to him?

- I don't have a father!

- What about your mother?

- My mother has traveled...

- May Allah have mercy on her.. Where do you live?

- I don't live anywhere.

- Really, this is not living.. but who feeds you?
- no one!
- Poor, do you know that I am a friend of yours?
- I have no friends!

The girl beat the inspector's hand with every power she found, the blood got out of it, while the inspector did his best to endure the pain and get his hand out with less loss, but since the matter was difficult, the assistant joined to him, he made a military operation until he could get the hand out, he grabbed the girl's hands from the back in order to beat nobody, while the inspector took out his handkerchief, wrapped his hand, and said:

- It is difficult to deal with people with disabilities without losses.. ah!
- So what shall we do with her now, sir?

The inspector took out a piece of sweet from his pocket and said:

- You like this sweet?

As a shark, the girl ate the sweet from the hand of the inspector who got his fingers away at the last minute!

The inspector laughed and took out another piece, saying:

- Give me what is in your hand, that you may take this!

The girl got her hand rid and gave him what was in it and ate the sweet, while the inspector got looking at the beautiful pearl bracelet which she gave him in the moment that the assistant shouted because his fingers got between the girl's teeth!

The inspector tickled the girl's neck may she opens her mouth but in vain, she was so furious that she wouldn't respond!

He closed her nose, and in moments she let go of his hand to catch her breath.. the inspector said to the aching assistant:

- Didn't they tell you that the price of curiosity is high, these days... it's supposed you tie her up...

- True.. but seeing what is in your hand made me forget her..aaaay!
- Forget her though she is the more valuable than these pearls?!
- More valuable than pearls?? .. I mean .. of course she is more valuable than pearls .. if she was more sensible ..!

The inspector said:

- To your knowledge, this girl you underestimate is a millionaire!
- M..m.. Millio... what?

The assistant swallowed his saliva and said:

- I don't understand.. you went out sick on vacation.. Then, minutes later, you came back with a girl you claim that she is a millionaire!! What happened in these minutes?

- What happened is that the assistant sat down on the inspector's chair, so you must answer your own questions yourself, New Inspector!

The assistant stammered, his face got red with shame. Then he said:

- I'm sorry, sir...

- So you will give me your new position?

The inspector stood up smiling while the assistant was drawn in his sweat, then finally the inspector said tired:

- I should go back to my vacation.. Take care of the girl until I return..

The inspector went out, while the assistant was shocked, as for the girl, she was writhing trying to escape.

In the end, he tied her to a chair, but the hours of the day were long for the assistant trying to take care of that furious girl, until the day finished and hunger and tiredness took over him.. after a long hesitation, he decided to take her with him to his house..

The assistant entered his house while dragging her until he was able to close the door boiling in anger because of the inspector... when he heard his wife's voice shouting:

- What is this girl that you brought? ...she looks savage!

Before he say anything, the girl pounced on his little daughter, she screamed trying to escape, while he did his effort to grab her hands, he said to his wife:

- Get a chair!

After an effort, he tied her to the chair, his wife said to him in a panic:

- Have you turned to work in the insane hospital??

The assistant wiped his forehead and shouted, angrily:

- This inspector is irresponsible!! .. I do not know what to describe him .. Where is the food?

- Yes, the food!

The wife ran to save the food from the flames, while her three children followed her, seeking refuge from the evil of this little monster!

At night everybody went to sleep except for that girl who was boiling on her chair like if there was a hidden power in her, so the assistant and his wife had to stay up to watch her and try to calm her down!

But suddenly in the middle of the night, the girl calmed down gradually, she looked sleepy, then she opened her red eyes and said:

- What is it? Why are my hands tied? They hurt me.. and my head is about to explode.. ah.. ah..

She cried, so the couple exchanges a look before the wife says to her:

- We don't want to hurt you, but if you promise to calm down, we will surely release you!

- What do you mean? .. I did not do anything!

The wife looked at her husband in astonishment, while the latter said:

- Tell me: What is your name, my daughter?

- Lian.. I live in the Blue Roses neighborhood.

The wife shouted:

- Ha! You live in the Blue Roses neighborhood, that luxurious neighborhood?!

- Yes, with my uncle, Alex.. because my mother travelled suddenly..

The girl cried, the assistant untied her while whispering:

- Strange.. It seems that the inspector was right!

The woman clapped her hands and added:

- I think you're hungry.. Well, I'll get you something delicious!

It was only a minute before the wife comes back running from the kitchen whispering terrified:

- Sam.. Sam.. I saw a ghost of a man on the balcony.. Come and see.. Hurry up!

The assistant ran to the balcony, he was sweating when he saw a ghost of a man trying to open the door, so he hurried to his pistol while his wife put on her veil and took her children out the house like a lightning!

In an instant, the intruder broke into the door and found himself face to face with the assistant saying:

- No movement!! ... put down your weapon!

The intruder threw his weapon and froze in his place.. the assistant got closer to him when -in the right moment- a youngman jumped behind the intruder and threw himself on the left of assistant ..

As a result of this shock, the pistol was fallen from the assistant's right, he found himself engaged in a fight with the intruder while the young man ran inside the house when he found no one to stop him..

The fight raged for a long time before they heard the girl's cry from inside, then the young man came out shouting:

- Successful!

The young man jumped from the balcony, the the intruder backed off tactically wrestling with the assistant, then he boxed him that he could jump too from the balcony to the other!

The assistant tried to shout for the neighbours in vain, then he found his pistol, everything was finished, so he got hitting the fence of his balcony and said:

- What is supposed to a policeman - someone broke into his house- to do? .. to contact the people?!

He pulled out his phone and said:

- Well, I'll call the police to tell the inspector where his recklessness took him!

As soon as the connection started, the inspector opened, so the assistant was confused but he said fast:

- Good night, Inspector.. I did my best to take care of this girl, Lian, as you want, and I took her...

- You took her to your house, but they kidnapped her from you.. I know that.. They are heading to the Iron Street.. Be there in five minutes..

The inspector hung up while the assistant tried to extract himself from the shock to get dressed quickly, and he did:

- I wish I had not called the police.. It is not good to a policeman whom someone broke into his house to call the police!!

He run out straight away and got in his car quickly, indeed, he arrived there in minutes.. he found the inspector and three other police men with him waiting for his signal, so he joined him immediately, the inspector was watching the moving signal on his machine, he shouted suddenly:

- The third floor... Go!

The men set out like a lightning and their shoes roared like thunder. Immediately they raided the wanted house before the criminal even close the door.. the criminal shocked when saw them, but he had no choice, his hands got tied, and the inspector said to him:

- Slips of the tongue reveal the secrets of hearts, you idiot uncle!

The man smiled, his eyes shone with the glint of victory, which aroused the suspicion of the inspector, so he took out his device to wipe the place, then said:

- There is a strange electronic device with this man.. these pulses.. they are.....

The inspector said in a panic:

- Everyone, run away, everyone out!

The four men went outside with that young man, while the inspector stayed with the criminal with the time-belt, who started to giggle:

- We will die together and in the same grave, Inspector..Lian is with us too!

The inspector said trying to break the door:

- You send yourself to hell for just papers.. for Dollars?? Isn't it a losing equation??

- What hell are you talking about?? .. Hell is your prison!

The inspector yelled as he pulled out his revolver:

- Lian, get away from the door, get away!
- Do not tire yourself .. she is crazy and will not understand what you are saying!

The inspector yelled:

- My Lord, make her go away!

The inspector shot his bullets quickly at the lock, immediately, the door opened, the inspector entered with his heart trembling with fear as he searched for the girl and found her safe in the corner, he took her fast and threw himself holding the girl between his arms..

It's only two seconds, before he falls on a car crushing its roof, he shouted because of his pain, but his shout lost in the noise of the bursting which his fire was thrown from the third floor!

The assistant ran to the inspector saying:

- Thank Allah for your safety ..!

The inspector whispered in a weary voice:

- Thank Allah .. I feel I got out of a miracle.. sometimes, two minutes worth the life all.. and the life of this girl, too..

He opened his hands and found her biting him with all her might. He said:

- Praise be to Allah that you still able to bite, and that I still able to feel bite pain, praise be to Allah who gave us life!

The inspector collapsed unconscious, he didn't perceive until the next morning in the hospital, with dozens of bandages tied to his legs!

A few days later, the inspector returned with his wheel chair, to his office, he found the assistant recepting him with the martial greet smiling and delighted, he dragged his wheel chair until he put it after his desk after he put the desk chair away, so the inspector laughed:

- See? Allah has judged between us, neither I nor you will sit on this chair in the end!

The assistant smiled, he liked that, then said:

- Thank Allah for your safety, sir.. I hope you got well now!

- Thank Allah, the fever is gone.

- I didn't mean fever, I meant your legs.

- When I entered the house and my father saw me like this, he said: ' This is the punishment for who objected the fever in the morning' then he left me and went, therefore I said to you ' Thank Allah, the fever is gone', because it is the root of the problem!

The assistant tried to stifle his laughter in vain, then said:

- The case all appeared because of your fever, sir.. however, I have a question for you: to tell me the details of this case which you brought from the street, and put me in without previous warning!

The inspector smiled and said:

- The whole case, my assistant, was built on two mistakes.. the first is the fault of the criminal, and the second is mine..

- You made a mistake?! .. I mean how?

- Of course I make mistakes...Allah is the One who does not make mistakes!.. The story began when I went out to my house, I heard a sound of footsteps running to my direction, quickly that girl appeared to me, she was running as an arrow, behind her, there was a man chasing her hard, that is what made me -without thinking- stop this unusual scene..

Either the girl is a pickpocket or she is a fugitive from someone who actually intends evil with her.. In both cases the matter really needs an intervention..

So I grabbed the girl in an ease I did not expect, like if she hadn't the clever of an ordinary girl, so that made me cancel the case of being a pickpocket immediately, especially her dress - though it was old- but it indicates that she is of a respected family.

And then the man stopped saying: Thank you for catching this little thief..

This was his killing mistake, because I cancelled the probability of being a pickpocket, and I noticed - with my experience- that she has some of his features, that means she is his relative, so how did he say that she is a thief like if he hasn't seen her before?!!

If he said to me: 'this is my daughter, she run away because she is mad', I would believe him, but his negative intentions made him lies in a negative way and sticks his tongue away from what he wants.. It was his slip!

But I needed a prove for all my thoughts, so I show him my martial ID, here, I made sure -by the body language which shone for a part of second on his face- that he realized that he fell in a problem, then he tried to repair the attitude by lying, but if he was stolen really - as he pretended-, he would be delighted immediately because he got out of his ordeal!

Man -by nature- does not like lying, the more experienced the psychologist is, the faster he notices and catches the signals that appear on the face of the liar, even if the liar is expert.

I simply made the decision that he intends an evil with the girl, so it's better to keep the girl away from him, for a while at least.. but, there my mistake was..

I took the girl while her matter took over my mind, and I left the man's matter, like if he is not the other half of the issue!.. When I remember how I did this, I do not find an explanation for that at all!

- Looks like the fever took you, sir!

- Maybe... and then, when I talked with the girl, I certainly noticed that she wasn't sensible, but I also noticed that - though the madness- she was good at talking and understanding what I was saying though the mad girls like her is very hard to connect with them.. that what made me think that her craze is a temporary or new, not her original..

Then when I saw the precious pearls, and she said that she had no father or mother, my theory got completed, especially I found a convincing cause to someone to try - especially one of her relatives- to make her crazy in order to sponsor her for the rest of her life and enjoy the money she inherited from her parents, or gradually kill her in this malicious way to inherit her.. So I hung a tracking device on her and left her with you!

- You left her with me so they can kidnap her??
- Yes, how will I give them a chance to kidnap her if she stays with me?
- But why didn't you think of protecting her instead?
- If they serve the service of telling me about their place for free, so why will I refuse this offer??.. thus, I spent the day in the bed -because of my sick- watching the tracking device, and as soon as I felt they kidnapped her - because of the fitful and fast moving-, I put on my suit and phoned the men, in the time you phoned me, so we sat off immediately!

- That means, had your mistake not been, the case would have ended in its place..

Now, Lian has returned to her senses after she has recovered from those toxic doses and no longer bites anyone!

She got sponsored by her father's aunt; it has been proven that she inherited a fortune after her mother's death months ago.

- Yes.. this wealth is what made her poor uncle be greedy for her money, instead of taking care of her.. He wanted to prove later in the court that she is a madgirl, if she didn't die and he inherited her legally.. he thought there's nobody will realize his tracks, because the effects of that light toxic would be left her long ago..

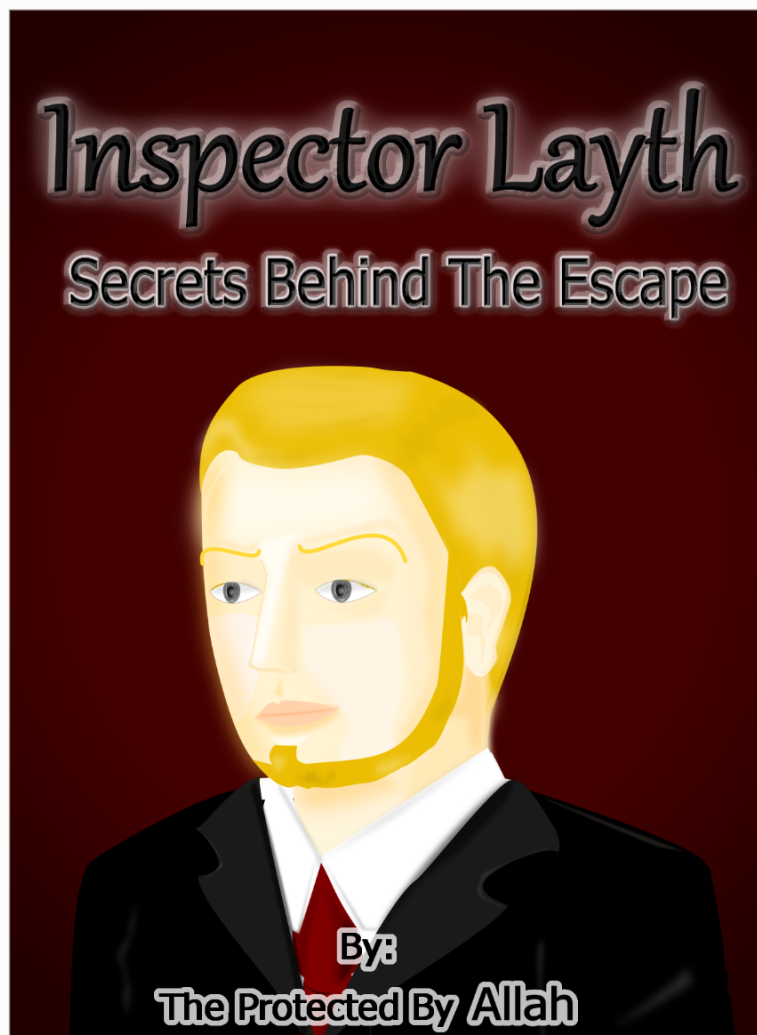

- Instead, he is who died, sir.. but you were about to sacrifice your life for a little girl??

- Of course, assistant .. I do not want to be asked on the Day of Resurrection: 'Why did you not save her?.. Do you still love yourself?'

- So should a person not love himself?

- Of course, as much as you hate yourself, you will love your Lord!!.. How much we need Allah's love on the Day of Resurrection!!

...Thanks to Allah the Almighty...
